What Is the Drug In Vaping?
Nicotine

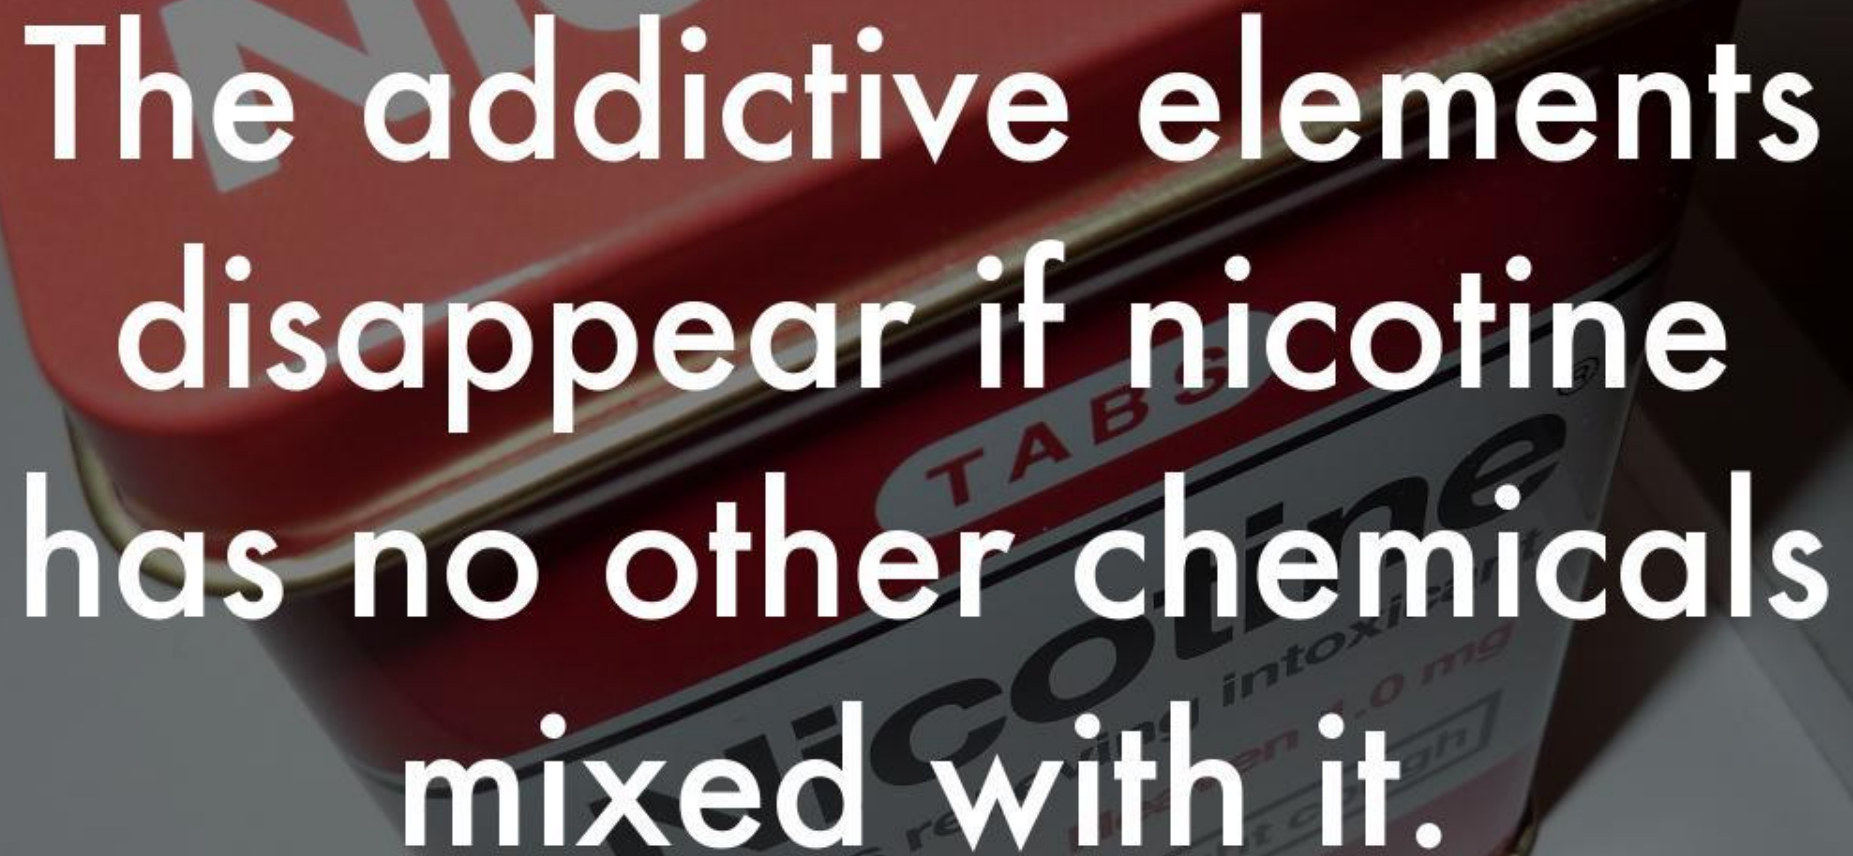

Nicotine is an oily
addicting substance
that is one of the main ingredients in any tobacco product.

Nicotine is a stimulant. It creates a pleasurable feeling, raises your heart beat, improves your ability to pay attention, and boosts memory.

Nicotine can reach
your brain in ten
seconds when smoking
or vaping.

The addictive elements
disappear if nicotine
has no other chemicals
mixed with it.

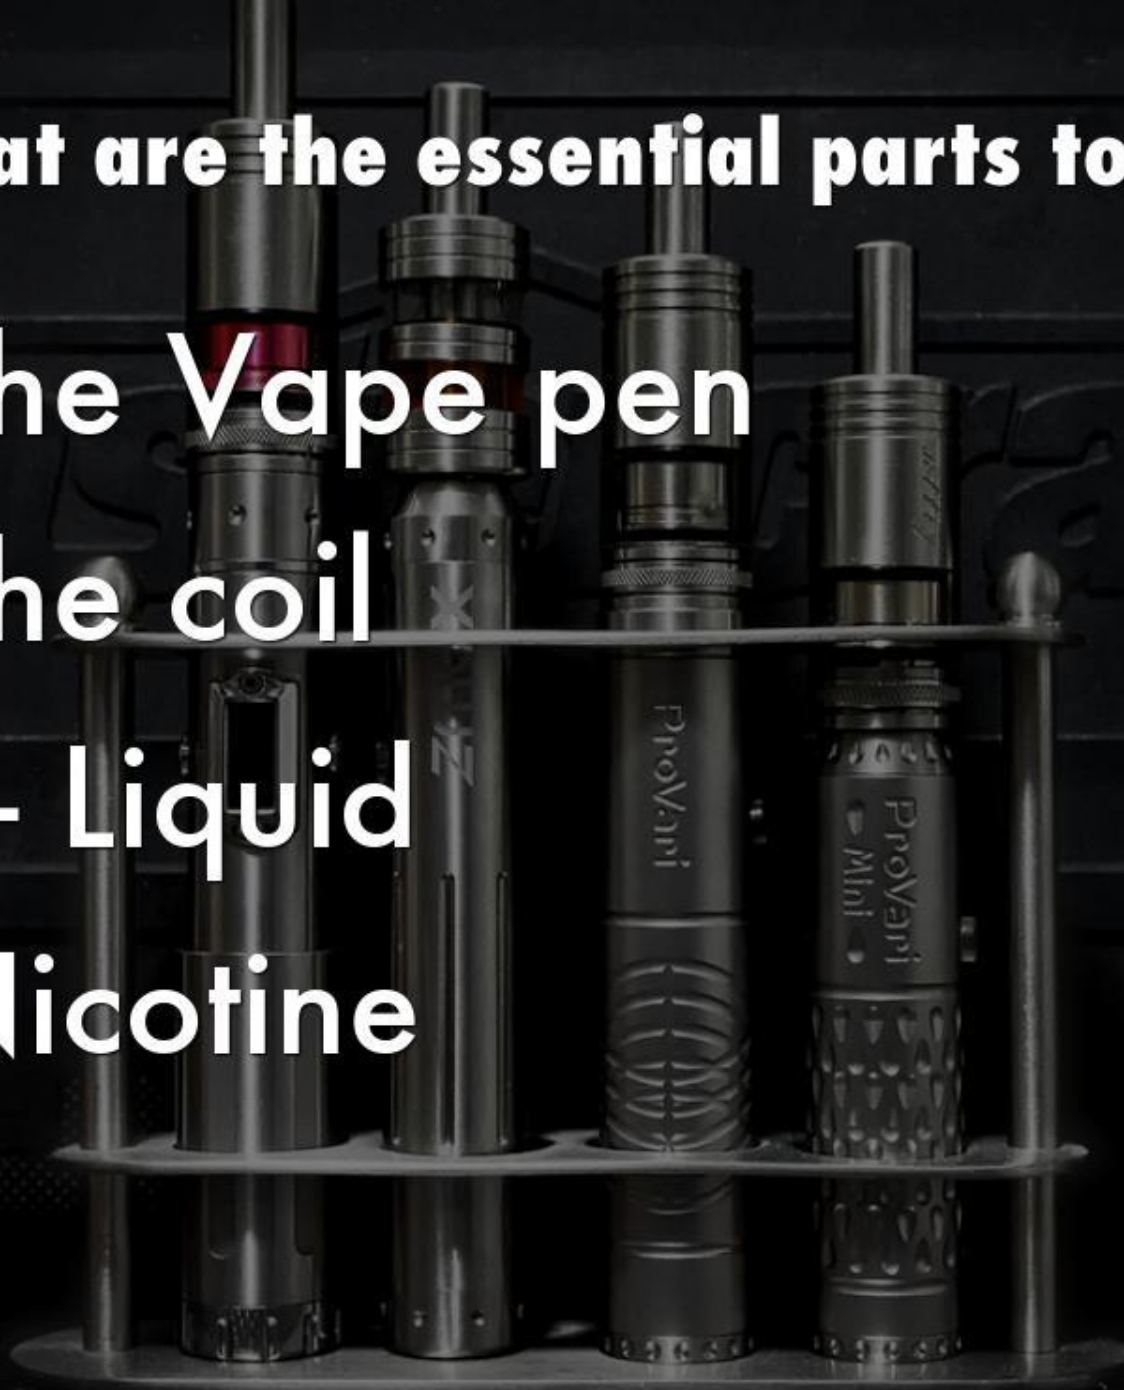

When other chemicals
are mixed with nicotine it can become very addictive

A collection of various e-cigarette and vape juice bottles and devices on a table. In the center, there is a red bottle with a white cloud logo and the word 'JotM'. To its left is a black bottle with a white label. To its right is a yellow bottle with a white label. In the foreground, there is a black e-cigarette device. The background is filled with many other bottles and devices, creating a dense and cluttered scene.

If you are just smoking or vaping the nicotine
will not kill you;
however, just one sip
of vape juice can kill a child.
